

Keith Moss

Over the past 20 years, Keith has built up a reputation as one of the finest photographers in the UK, producing striking black and white images which offer us a whole new way of seeing the world around us.

Keith's motivation comes from an innate desire to be creative and to pay some kind of tribute to the beauty, emotion, verve and passion that many of us forget exist in our busy lives. Inspired by his surroundings, the people he meets and his responses to life, his images both reflect and provoke strong emotions, in the artist himself, and in those who view his work.

The only rule Keith follows is that there are no rules! With a keen eye for a perfect image, he relies solely on his spontaneity, vitality and of course, his surroundings. Unbending in the way he works, he approaches each project with huge energy and enthusiasm, stopping only when he has recreated the impact of the image he first saw in his head.

The passion that Keith puts into capturing his black and white images has resulted in some of the most dramatic, vibrant and sought after photography available today. Although he is based in a small village in the north of England, his reputation and client base are truly international, and his work is commissioned and collected by clients all over the world.
