About Anatoly Zinger

Anatoly Zinger's work is based on Mediterranean scenery from the South of Spain and Southern Italy, which have inspired his sea views. He uses bright pastels and oils to create a sensual feel and a sense of involvement in his scenery. Zinger was born in Yalta in the Ukraine in 1964. As a talented young artist, he completed his studies at the High School of Arts in Kiev. Later on, after he had established himself as a serious artist, Zinger joined the Ukrainian Artists Union. In 1995, Zinger immigrated to Israel along with his wife and his two children. Zinger has had various group and solo exhibitions.

Serigraph on Paper

Screen printing or Serigraphy is a printing technique that uses a woven mesh to support an ink blocking stencil. The attached stencil forms open areas of mesh that transfer ink as a sharp-edged image onto a substrate. A roller or squeegee is moved across the screen stencil forcing or pumping ink past the threads of the woven mesh in the open areas.

Credit is generally given to the artist Andy Warhol for popularizing screen printing identified as serigraphy, in the United States. Warhol is particularly identified with his 1962 depiction of actress Marilyn Monroe screen printed in garish colors.
